

Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Training

Saturday, December 5, 10am-Noon

The League of Women Voters Wichita has partnered with the League of Women Voters of Kansas to provide a training opportunity for all members on the importance of diversity, equity and inclusion.

League members and friends are invited to this two-hour training where we will seek to understand, explore, and identify how diversity, equity, and inclusion are an essential component of the League's mission as we head into our next century.

We ask participants to join us with open minds and hearts as we learn new ways of thinking and being in relation to issues of race in our communities. All who are committed to this ongoing work are welcome to attend.

Mr. Deth (pronounced Date) of Faith in Action will be facilitating the event. As Director of Training and Development, Deth leads the design, development and delivery of training experiences wherein people learn the art and craft of organizing. He has also been a primary leader in the organization's race equity work by developing a systematic understanding of the different dimensions of exclusion and how that intersects with the latest research in belonging and inclusion. He seeks to identify and implement strategies that deconstruct racism to foster organizational culture that prompts people and teams to thrive and create structural policies that free people to live into their purpose.

A Zoom link will be sent via email by December 4 to all who register. While this event is free, we ask that those who register plan on attending the session live. This helps us greatly in our planning.
